All my life i've been dealing with the pain,
of trying to figure out all the rules to your game of love.
i can't break the emotional grasp that you have on my world,
how long will this last?
is it to have and to hold, or to abuse and control?
you can't make up your mind,
so why do i waste my time?
you broke my heart for the last time.
i trusted you, but now i can't confide,
because your love is a lie!
you keep walking in and out of my life,

manipulating me with your false promises and lies.
i won't let you play the victim this time,
cause now i know the truth and im' leaving you behind!
and for what it's worth, i wish it was you that was hurt.
you won't get my sympathy,
cause now you're nothing to me.
you broke my heart for the last time.
i trusted you, but now i can't confide,
because your love is a lie!
