So trouble comes strolling through the door
But anything worth having is worth fighting for Fiction or fact you'll supply the plot
We'll both be featured like it or not

Yes I guess you think I'm stupid and brutal
I should confess that the feeling it's mutual
It's not between the devil and the deep blue sea
Not between the truth and hypocrisy
Not between freedom and democracy

But between you, between you
Between you and me
Between you, between you
Between you and me
Between you

The stars and stripes meets the hammer and sickle
(Where the eagle meets the death)
Not for honor but rubles and nickels
(The simple world was best)
It ain't fisticuffs, it's a full scale war
(If we've forgotten what's love for)
Your secrets no secret anymore

Yes I guess you think I'm stupid and brutal
I should confess that the feeling it's mutual
It's not between the devil and the deep blue sea
Not between the truth and hypocrisy
Not between freedom and democracy

But between you, between you
Between you and me
Between you, between you
Between you and me
Between you, between you
Between you

So trouble comes strolling through the door
