[Russ Ballard]

If you could see my mind
If you really look deep then maybe you'll find
That somewhere there will be a place
Hidden behind my comedian face

You will find somewhere there's a house
And inside that house there's a room
Locked in the room in the corner you see
A voice is waiting for me, to set it free
I got the key, I got the key

Voices, I hear voices

In my head the voice is waiting...
Waiting for me, to set it free
I locked it inside my imagination
But I'm the one who's got the combination
Some people didn't like what the voice did say
So I took the voice and I locked it away
I got the key, I got the key

Voices, I hear voices, voices, I hear voices

Don't look back, look straight ahead
Don't turn away, then the voice it said
Don't look back, yesterday's gone
Don't turn away, you can take it on

Voices, I hear voices, voices, I hear voices
