This day probably tore me apart and I didn't even know it This day probably ate up my heart and I got nothing to show for it Why oh why is it so so easy to compromise?

This fog is like strawberry pie but it keeps you keeping reaching Here I am just watching me die, just watching death a coming up a coming up creeping Why don't you start calling me ungrateful?

Keep me away I've got no will to fight
Keep me away, I'm running to the light Cause I don't want to lose your way with these devil archerists

My soul here a million to one says
I didn't even see it Looking up looking down at my soul Looking everywhere but where the help was coming from Why do I seem broke and stumbling every time I get hit?

Keep me away, I got no will to fight
Keep me away, I'm running to the light
Cause I don't want to lose your way
With these devil archerists...
