I can't take all the blame, now can I
It takes more than one to lose Such a fine line
That lies between but holds together

I turn to the night, turn to the time
Whoa, whoa, and I'm findin' out the hard way
It's gonna take some tears, little bit of heartache
We're like islands in the stream
Watchin' all our dreams start to fade, fadin' away

A moment gone is gone forever
It's like water through the hands
And you spin the wheel of misfortune

Watching the turn, well you live and you learn
No, and I'm findin' out the hard way
It's gonna take some tears, a little bit of heartache
We're like islands in the stream
Watchin' all our dreams start to fade, fadin' away

I keep reachin' out, (and) come up empty handed
When did I let you down or did I leave you stranded?

And I'm findin' out the hard way
It's gonna take some tears, a little bit of heartache
We're like islands in the stream
Watchin' all our dreams start to fade, fadin' away

Oh, and I'm findin' out the hard way
It's gonna take some tears, a little bit of heartache
We're like islands in the stream
Watchin' all our dreams start to fade

Oh, and I'm findin' out the hard way
It's gonna take some tears, a little bit of heartache
We're like islands in the stream
Watchin' all our dreams start to fade, fadin' away
Start to fade, fadin' away
Start to fade, fadin' away
Fade away...
