I just stopped by
To see your face
I heard you've been out running in the heart and all over the place
So you're gone and you've decided
To give it all away to the church
You say sick but a little bit of the living hurts

Wherever you go
Whatever you do
I will be there
Inside of you

There in your heart
There in your heart
Wherever you go
I will go too

The hour's late, I'm like lightning
Stretching far across the sky, the same, you've seen it Must be a million years ago when I believed that I could fly
Maybe I'll burn down the house
Or build crosses from the wood
Maybe I'll go to Africa
And be lion king, if only I could

Wherever you go
Whatever you do
I will be there
Inside of you

There in your heart
There in your heart
Wherever you go
I will go too

I was there in the beginning
You took your first breath alone
I'll be there in the ending
When the world's desire leaves your bones

And all of the corners and in all the wide open spaces in the dark
I'll be there in your heart
I'll be there in your heart

I'll be there in your heart
There in your heart
I'll be there in your heart
