Expressions of me that will now set me free
Have long since been stuck in my head
I'm sure you'd agree if you knew me they need to be said

Abundance I craved and the power I take I've long since kept pent up within
With even a bounty seclusion I cannot win

Chorus:

Do I belong here, my utility unclear so it seems
A race to the top of the summit with limited means
Do I belong here, is one to pay heed to ones dreams
Questions without any answers, what can they mean

Addictions I crave once destroyed my parade
When ailing my energy bled
Distractions that lead from the path can leave spirits dead

With barriers broke I now maintain the hope
That the law of action prevails
On a red sea of energy my ship will set sail
