The race is on, the cry of another less than me
Who could it be, but what about me
What about the life I'll never see

I can't sustain the energy I must explain
And my neighbor he will pay I must explain

Chorus:
I'll start the fire burning to
Burning through
I don't know who
I'll start the fire burning to
Burning through
I don't care who

I came upon the window of opportunity
But I didn't see, I was home free
But now I'll face reality

Now I'm restrained from anything that I can claim
And my neighbor who I blame will do the same

Chorus

(Musical Interlude)
