I am getting over you
Just like any other flu
When your photo s old and torn
Someone else
Will keep me warm
One day when I wake up
My heart will feel so light
And you wont be haunting me
In my dreams at night
Im gonna get in control
Laugh you right out of my soul
Soon, and I know it will be,
You will mean nothing to me
And the things Im gonna do
I will do in my own way
I will never think about
What you might say
And I don't have to worry so
If you really care for me
And if to be my man
Is what you wanna be
