Where are the pleasures
That I once thought I'd find?
And how did my life get
A race against time?
I've got appointments
And planes and trains to take
And where are the flavours
To please me, tease me?
I want that spice of life
-give me some flavour
I want that spice of life
-give me some colour
I'm feeling weary
And everything looks grey
You say Carpe Diem
But I just can't seize my day
Where is the method
To add fun to my life?
Every morning is a virgin
-I have to wake up, break up
