The holiest place is the place where we played
Heartbeat nights and hangover days
We took it for granted, we payed it no mind
But memory's a bully and time is unkind

'Cause if you dream
You have a chance to get wishes granted
And if you get all you wished for
You break the enchantment

I dreamed to be someone, I dreamed to escape
City nights and hangover days
I got what I wished for more than I could take
And now that it's over I see my mistakes

Everyday is a winding road
And every song is a song we don't know
Every night is a kick start
And every step is a step we take in the dark
