You say you've paid the price
To end up where you are
Just trying to survive
Left you an old mans heart
It turned into nothing
The nothing you thought was right

You'll see what you need to see
And then it's lost

You can't explain what it means
Cuz it means too much
Sometimes you were close
But never enough to touch

You'll see what you need to see

You can't explain what it means
Cuz it means too much
Sometimes you're close
But never enough to touch
You can't explain what it means
But it means so much
What you give is what you get
You better watch, watch your step
Watch the road ahead...
