I need to be afraid, said the kindweak man
As he lay cuddled up in his bed with those whispers around his head Yeah, he'd come to nothing in a way - in a way that left him With nothing to say but: o.k.! Yeah, his eyes only worked one way
There's no such thing as paranoia, it's always twice as bad as you fear
And the thing that destroys you, is that you had the answers right here
There's no such thing as paranoia, it's always twice as
bad as you fear
I told you I told you I hate to say I told you so..
Old scars, but the cuts were new, said the girl, who loved many But trusted a few, yeah, it's true - 'coz she feared anyone new She lend out her feelings of pure affection, he kept the collection
And the missing piece of her heart - Yeah, her eyes only looked that far There's no such thing as paranoia, it's always twice as
bad as you fear
And the thing that destroys you, is that you had the
There's no such thing as paranoia, it's always twice as
bad as you fear
I told you I told you I hate to say I told you so..
There's murder going on inside...
Yeah, 'coz you only see so much through the human eye
There's no such thing as paranoia, it's always twice as
bad as you fear
And the thing that destroys you, is that you had the
There's no such thing as paranoia, it's always twice as
bad as you fear
I told you I told you I hate to say I told you so..
