I taught the flames how to dance
I tell the cars where to drive
I keep the trees from falling
I show the birds how to fly

I stay up 'till early
And tell the sun when to rise
I'm the king of nothing
And I want back my life

This will be the last time in neverland
This will be the last days of peter pan
This will be the last call to right some wrongs
And this will be the last chance Â–
The last chance to die young...

It won't be long before I start
To set the world on fire
Just to start a flame in your heart
To start your will and desire

I paved the road to your house
A long and silent street
But my empire's crumbling
And at a brutal speed

This will be the last time in neverland
This will be the last days of peter pan
This will be the last call to right some wrongs
And this will be the last chance Â–
The last chance to die young...

I've got a message
Wrapped up in a song
The more time that pass
The less you wanna know when you're wrong
If you've ended up nowhere
Don't be afraid to grow old
Everything around you
Is still out of control...
