Ten thousand nights of darkness
In the ether underneath this garden
You are my heart's calling, hey

One star in a million
One voice in a thousand
I will know your love
I will know your love

I've sailed on this ocean
So long alone
But I will know your love
I will know your love

I will know your voice
I will know your touch
I know this much
I know I will know your love

One chance that'll come by
One dance in your arms
And I will know your love
I will know your love

The tender kiss
Deep from the soul
For only this
My heart unfolds

I will know your voice
I will know your touch
I know this much
I know I will know your love

One star in a million
I've got a feeling
I will know your love
I will know your love
I will know your love

I will know your love
I will know your love

I will know your love
