Right now
It feels like forever can't wait
Right now
It looks like tomorrow's too late to meet
Those expectations
Ones that have never unknown

Right now
It's high not to fall out of place
You make me wrong
Have I fallen from grace?
What you do for yourself
You expect to someone else

I HAD heard that love is a verb

Right now,
I seem quite cold hearted
But how did my grief END before we parted
The ground where we lay
And hoped to my heart you could stay

Right now
It's high not to fall out of place
If I'm wrong
Have I fallen from grace?
What I do to myself
I expect to someone else

I HAD heard that love is a verb

Right now
It feels like tomorrow can't wait
Right now
It looks like forever's too late
To meet our expectations
