On the hill she spreads her wings
With her anger she does sing
Tells me to walk away
Listen to what she has to say
Stands beside me through the day
Watches nightfall as I lay
The vision in my mind
Gives faith of what's beyond to find
She is my angel, protects me always
Comes to the rescue, her wings will come
And take me in
I was the chosen one, you chose to watch over
The moment that I fall, you're always there to...
Take me in...
Don't stay away if I turn my back on you
If you listen to the sounds of the voice inside
This will be the meeting with your own angel
I know I don't deserve mine
In my eyes I know I've failed her
But still she watches with disgust on her face
She is my angel, spirits there always
The moment that I die, her wings will come
And take me in
