I got this feeling that I need to express Laying it out so you don't have to guess
I'm making myself vulnerable
But you keep holding, so scared to let it go If you're looking for love I think I could be the one, the one, the one.

Tell me why you wanna be so cool
Acting like you don't feel the way that you do
We've got the strongest compatibility
I just wanna explore the possibility But if you only wanna play games with me, I'm not the one, the one, the one.

I ain't got a husband you ain't got a wife
We('re) two grown folks, let's spend some time together,
Get to know me better, maybe share some laughter
It just might turn into happily ever after You never know I just might be the one

I just might be that special girl
The one that God made especially for you
I just might be that special girl
The one to make you happy
I just wanna make you happy
You never know, I just might be the one, the one, the one.
