I gotta can of spray paint
And i just wrote your name in
Six foot high letters on city hall
Why don't you see?
Cause i keep standing here
Waiting for you to say something
And i keep standing here
Waiting for you to say something
And i keep standing here
Waiting for you to do something
But you stand so far away
So far away you'll never see me
So what the f*ck should i do
Should i draw blood to make you notice me
I just beat up a nazi
Skinheat at your feet and
You didn't even look at me
Why don't you see?
