On a tuesday in decemeber
When you walked out i remember
You were smiling
As you turned around, in the hallway
Lingered in the doorway
Still the words you said to me
Made me think of how we use to be

Head to my heart
I want to be the one who always learns
She says you are just like teh sun
I get so burned when you are close to me

In the backroom of the mansion
You are planning your deception
Always calling, never phone in
Im a victim of a lovers war
And still the words you said to me
Keep ringing in your slient symphony

Head to my heart
I want to be the one who always learns
She says your are just like the sun
I get so burned when you are close to me

Head to my heart
I want to be the one who always learns
She says your are just like the sun
I get so burned when you are close to me

And still you hurt so bad
I thought I'd get one over on you
And still i hope you are sad
Deserving more than anyone
I could give you one good reason
You could be my warming season
All the things we coulda been
Just fell away

Head to my heart
I want to be the one who always learns

She says your are just like the sun
I get so burned when you are close to me

Head to my heart
I want to be the one who always learns
She says your are just like the sun
I get so burned when you are close to me
I get so burned when you are close to me
I get so burned when you are close to me
