

Better Than A Thousand

I know it's the substance that really counts, but we're into number we judge by amount. I know it the good, not just the plenty and with all our abundance we end up empty.

We deserve cake but we've settled for crumbs, but I know one is better than a 1000?

Taught how to purchase we consume by the pound but open us up

there's not much to be found.

It could simply imbibe a one sentence of truth it's outweigh all the shit we drank up in our youth.
