We've made our efforts for happiness -
well that endeavor caused more distress
How could you expect success unless you lived today

Tomorrow's dream may never come
and sure it's good to have some.
But instead of all this dreaming well why not just live
today.

Hope for that day that I can find the perfect situation
where all is fine.
Just chasing my tail this hope of mine
going to live today.

Trust no future however so pleasant.
Let the dead past bury it's dead.
Act, act in the living present. Live today.

I know I've been waiting for a time that is present every moment.
I know his hankering has cheated out of a life but I'm gonna live.
