"Welcome home". It's been so long
I thought I'd never see this place again
I've been gone for far too long
But still you recognize my face and then
I search for pictures and memories in my mind
Times are changing and I'm feeling left behind
ONCE AGAIN-I'm back where I belong

For several years and a thousand tears
I hid behind my fear
And I'm not ready yet, but I'll never forget
The love you gave me here
And still I search for pictures and memories of the past
But I need your help, yes I need your help
Because times are changing fast
ONCE AGAIN-I'm back where I belong

And still I search for pictures and memories of the past
But I need your help, yes I need your help
Because times are changing fast

ONCE AGAIN-I'm back where I belong
