Do you feel that you know
long ago i should have stopped to let you know and who am i

to reveal now i wish i could have told you how i feel

i can see that now
that your long long gone
and your feet are tired and now i won't look back but i know i'll miss your strange funny way
your strange funny way

did you think i should remain
after all this time you know nothing has changed there's a tree by the door there's a dog in this house its been locked up so long i guess i'll let it out

your feet are tired

here we go

well your long long gone
