Fire! fire!
All I see around is fire!
Destruction, is the price we have to pay
An eye for an eye a tooth for a tooth
Blood for blood, in search for justice
And truth

Onwards!
I see children marching onwards!
Chaos, is the order of the day
My father's sins running through my veins
The spirit's zeal are forever locked in chains

Tombstones!
Everywhere, I see tombstones!
Mothers, pay the most precious coin of all
You and I might cease to exist
But until then there'll be always war and peace!
