Today is just a day, like any other day

You can't do this, you can't do that

Why don't you give it up my son?

But I've got eyes that see

A life that's good for me

My mind explodes, it makes me grow

And it gives me something new

But you keep sayin'

Meet me when your luck is down

Meet me when your luck be gone

Meet me when your luck was down

Meet me when your luck be gone

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Seems the time is right for now

Think I will stop and turn around

Hear the phone rings

He says all you do is sleep

Oooh, it makes me shiver when I'm thinking back

I stand tall you see

Chasing my world of dreams

My vision's clear and I have no fear

Of the things that make me happy

But you keep sayin'

Meet me when your luck is down

Meet me when your luck be gone

Meet me when your luck was down

Meet me when your luck be gone

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Seems the time is right for now

Think I will stop and turn around

He made me, he made me

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Miles and miles of pain

My heart is broken once again

I'm coming home

Seems the time is right for now

Don't have to stop after all
