Tell me why we live the way we do?
And when something's different we look confused
What we don't like is not allowed
This isn't what life's about

It's better to be friends than enemies
My philosophy doesn't always come so clearly
But it's so damn hard I don't have a visa card
To erase away all of my problems
Happiness? You need a key
Don't think it's the meaning to be free
Prisons created by dollar signs and living fines
Lock down the problem, yea, It happens all the time
Prisons created by dollar signs and living fines
Lock down the problem, yea, It happens all the time.

Tell me why we live the way we do?
And when something's different we look confused
What we don't like is not allowed
This isn't what life's about.
