There was a time when everything felt right And your touch in the cold could bring me closer to home
And for you I would do anything just to hold you With my eyes, for a night or just five, or a breath to get by How I missed you in my life, Oh how you'll never know

I'll see you in my sleep tonight... hope it doesn't hurt too long
I'll see you in my sleep tonight... wish to bring you home

Thought about it, screaming and punching the walls up around my room
Collect the pieces of which were "I Love You"
Why, Why, Why do we do the things that we do?

And if it were a dream I would pray to the Lord just to stay awake
What a cost for all our mistakes
Why, Why, Why do we do the things that we do?
And should the sunrise, if it fell on our eyes
We could handwrite the sky and breathe all the dreams you wanted to
And for this I would give anything... just to sing you All my lines, for the time, till I die, split these words of goodbye
How I'll miss you in my life... Oh How You'll never know

I'll see you in my sleep tonight... hope it doesn't hurt too
long
