not what you want to be who'll become the beast
killing technology

dogs of war and blasphemy
eating our humanity

digital infinities
computerised fallacies killing our humanity dogs of war and blasphemy
human

if all could stay, it be the way the laws of war engraved could save ourselves from cyberslaves
our wars enslaved, enclave this way a life within human touch beyond our former
loveless in every way

join all and feast, infect disease the politician waves his hand in deceit to pollinate a new breed, electro-pulse bleeds the lines of computations, losses that we feed breaking the rules that be, demonic policies download the shock of hacking locks inside our chemistry fall inevitably, into futures lead

we feed

killing our humanity
