"Look at me"

Look into my eyes and you'll know that I truly love you
Look into my eyes and you'll see that no one will harm you
Look into my eyes and you'll feel that I will protect you
Look into my eyes and you'll feel that you belong

Look at me, look at me and little by little be sleepy
Look at me, look at me and you'll see that the dreams will come
Then close your tired eyes, so wet from crying
Close them and you'll see that no one will hurt you at all

Close your tired eyes and know that I truly love you
Close your tired eyes and you'll see that no one will harm you
Close your tired eyes and you'll feel that I will protect you
Close your tired eyes and you'll feel that you belong
