i've been an asshole lately i've been fakin'
i'm only as good as you i'm just a wandering ghost lost in the city
do you know the feeling?
without love you're nothing at all well you're not alone so wake me up before the last call i have faith in you but do you have faith in me? i just know that..

i gotta stand by my own actions but i want you by my side i couldn't stand another rejection am i ready to walk the line?

let's go ahead now - follow me we all have a lot to give and we only have a lifetime to live

24 square meters uptown and a piano, my only friend he's there for me without an exception he's out of tune but i don't care i get up to the hill to paint a silhouette of the city of broken hearts this is my town, these are my streets i just need a reminder of everything around me, baby i could always sell that piano but i know we need a hit and i know i gotta learn about soul politics
