i should've come but i got stuck and i lost the track of time and i lost myself on the way you know me and my secret you're the only one say baby, you'll never tell tell me now tell me all tell me everything you know tell me what you think of me close your eyes and tell me what you see or do you see just nothing at all in my hide-away, up on the roof i feel more like home and everything is clear from up here people look so tiny stars are low and sky is near in the stillness of night i realized

i can't stay still and i never will
and baby i know it forever i'll return to this place see you on the rooftops and railways i do my best to stay alive but they all try to bring me down like a sad ol' piano i'm all outta tune

and they all try to bring me down
