Slit my wrists
bathe in the ecstasy of my pain the trial of a mortal soul begging to die
lost life in faith
all faith is gone
hate replaces all love fallen - not alone this time drowning in my own blood

wounds ripped open
never wanting to go back never again to be tortured like this my words are spit back at me moments - days to die for drowned out by screams

I was warned I ignored falsely finding hope in the abyss lost everything in nothing

lost life in faith, all faith is gone tear out my inside take everything for your selfish kind followed in line, led deep into failure blind to reality
