Take the make up off your face
It's time to go to sleep right now
He says that your the one for him
Tomorrows just another day
It begins the same old way
As he whispers in your ear what you want to hear

All your friends say that you're slipping away
He's got the best of you
If you could only see
You're empty not letting anyone in
You're lonely even though you're with him
You're empty when I look in your eyes
I don't see who you used to be
'Cause you're empty

I see you walking down the street with a blank look on your face
I just wanna talk to you (yeah)
I see the pain you hold inside
Even though you try and hide
I wish you would walk away from everything

All your friends say that your slipping away
He's got the best of you if only you could see
You're empty and not letting anyone in
You're lonely even though your with him
You're empty when I look in your eyes
I don't see who you used to be cause your're empty

To break away start new, start new today
And I'll be there for you
If you need me to

You're empty and not letting anyone in
You're lonely even though you're with him
You're empty and not letting anyone in
You're lonely even though you're with him
You're empty when I look in your eyes
I don't see who you used to be
Cause you're empty
