You lied to me, I wasn't worth it
What you need, I can't be perfect
Please believe me when I tell you this now
That you were the light in my life
And the tears in my eyes
I tried to forget

I believed everything you ever said to me
I sure as hell regret this
Finally, I know what it's like to be
On the other side of things

I'm walkin out with my face forward
And in the clouds praying for something to turn around
Tell me something good
Because I misunderstood

You were the thought on my mind
Hoping for one more night
But knowing I can't cause I no long feel right now

I believed everything you ever said to me
I sure as hell regret this
Finally, I know what it's like
To be on the other side of things
I know now everything
Everything in life I've figured out
Helps me in the long run
How to be the person that I want to be
For all of eternity
For all of eternity

You know I believed,
Everything you ever said to me
I sure as hell regret this
Finally, I know what it's like to be
On the other side

You know I believed
Everything you ever said to me
I sure as hell regret this
Finally, I know what it's like to be on

The other side of things
I know now everything in life I've figured out
Helps me in the long run
How to be the person that I want to be
For all of eternity
For all of eternity
