Somewhere in the world tonite
Someone's laughing someone just cried
But we don't care, We'll cruise together

Somewhere down this traveled road
We start out young and then we grow old
But we don't care, We'll cruise together

We will still be lovers, long after the sun has faded away
We will warm each other
Forever and one more day

Someday when the world turns black
He will come and take it all back
But we don't care, We'll cruise together...
