Hey You could be my dancer You could be the answer
When the lonely sun goes down
Hey You could be my river Make me shake and shiver
When the lonely sun goes down

Hey I could be your weakness Words when yours are useless
When the lonely sun goes down
Hey I could be the answer I could be your dancer
When the lonely sun goes down

You need me to heal you I need you to heal me
You need me to feel you I need you to feel me

When the hands of time slap your face
Hold on to me in this human race
When the summer's Heat is the only sound
Hold on to love when the lonely sun goes down

You need me to heal you I need you to heal me
You need me to feel you I need you to feel me

When the hands of time slap your face
Hold on to me in this human race
When the summer's Heat is the only sound
Hold on to love when the lonely sun goes down
When the hands of time slap your face
Hold on to me in this human race
When the winter's grip twists your fate
Hold on to love everybody It's much stronger than hate

Hold on.. when the Lonely Sun Goes down
