I talk to myself,
Left in the air,
Don't go to the moon cause there's no man
I played a part, shift down my heart
Trying to hide, what I feel inside
And just when I think
I got it all for joy
You smiled, and I know you the one I've been waiting for

YOU LET ME IN
You unlock all the love inside me
You hold my key, to set my lonely heart free

Too many times,
I sacrificed, I walked the line only later to pay the price
It was there all the time
But I closed my eyes,
Too lonely to see what's in front of me
And just when I turned
I got you staring back at me
And you touched, you all that I needed to love so much

YOU LET ME IN
You unlocked all the love inside me
You hold my key
To set my lonely heart free
YOU LET ME IN when it thought I had nothing left in me
You hold my key set my lonely heart free

HOOK
Next to me, is where I want you to be Safe within my arms
I wanna thank the LORD
For the love you brought to me
Made me feel like I'm alive again
