

Dan Tyminski

"Think About You Every Day"

Visit "Think About You Every Day" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm not trying to show you how, I love you but I do.
I'm not the kind to stay for long, but you've got me wanting to.
I think about you everyday.

Was it really meant for us to meet,
And if I saw you out walking on the street.
Would we have to turn our heads away,
And just pretend we don't feel this way.

Now I'm in my car and there's no one else here,
I'm staring out the windshield and fighting back a tear.
I wish our lives were different, and we could have a chance
There's nothing sadder than a lost romance.

I listened to that song, at least a hundred times a day
The one about Carolina.
Suppose I stop the car, and I called you just to say,
I miss you everyday.

Think of me when the nights are long,
And I'm never far away.
Some day soon I'll be at your door,
And then I'm home to stay,
I think about you everyday.
Everyday.

Visit Dan Tyminski page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.