Oh, you travel around too much
And you've lost your loving touch
Now whose shoulder will you cry on

You didn't love me all along
You can't love and do me wrong
I don't trust you no more
So, go knock on another door
Now whose shoulder will you cry on

Just let those hard tears burn your eyes
They're just payments on the lies
They've made a wreck out of me
From this things I'll be set free
Now whose shoulder will you cry on

You didn't love me all along
You can't love and do me wrong
I don't trust you no more
So, go knock on another door
Now whose shoulder will you cry on

You didn't love me all along
You can't love and do me wrong
I don't trust you no more
So, go knock on another door
Now whose shoulder will you cry on
