Callin' me in the middle of the night
You're wakin' me from a good dream
Just to say you're okay
But you wanna talk about a couple things
Like I care about a couple things
I shoulda let my machine take your call
But I wasn't thinkin' again

Shoulda known better than to let you call me up
To let you down again
Shoulda known better than to talk to you at all
You shoulda known better than to drag me into this
For one more round
You're not my problem now

I'm in love with nobody at all
You should try it sometime
I don't obsess or second guess
Or wait around for anyone anymore
Stop wishin' for me to come around
You're just wastin' your time

Shoulda known better than to let you call me up
To let you down again
Shoulda known better than to talk to you at all, oh
You shoulda known better than to drag me into this
For one more round
You're not my problem now

Haven't you had enough now
I'm really hangin' up now
I'm givin' you the chance to say goodbye
Shoulda let my machine take your call
But I wasn't thinkin' again

Shoulda known better than to let you call me up
To let you down again
Shoulda known better than to talk to you at all, oh, oh
You shoulda known better than to drag me into this
For one more round, yeah
You're not my problem now

You're not my problem now
No, no, no
You're not my problem now
