End of the century Misery, can it be chaos who's the boss Suffer a great loss Man woman child No longer exist Only the good ones will be missed Life love cherish it all Who will be left to conquer The end is coming Don't start running There's nowhere to run Don't grab a gun All over the land her this roar No one know what's in store Look for the star, he's on his way No one knows what's in store Love your self and all around In a blink of an eyes You won't hear a sound Your heart is pounding at raided speed Man will always feel the need for greed

Let's go for it Now you can't miss Al-Though-This-Was-The-Be-Gining Beware because the end is here

The sky is falling
Eyes are balling
You had your chance
To make your stance
Love is a must life don't lust
Not time to fuss
People start to cuss
cry out who's going to care
Have no doubt have no fear
Believe in me I'll show you the way

Some people think the year 2G is so scaring, let wait and see

The world will shot down most won't admit

People go crazy people catch fits
Fire breaks out
One way to stop
Play hip hop non stop stop
Remember these words
And what I said
You just might wake up brain dead

The feeling (feeling)
Is amazing (amazing)
Oh boy, I want you (come on and get me)

Some just say the world is changing
Many people will agree
Many changes we are seeing
I just say...
It's the end...
It's the end...
It's the end of the century
