I just can't move past these mistakes i've made
With every step i'm tripping as I try to walk away
I guess some kind of penance might ease my mind
The harder I try the more I find...
All I have to do is look to you
And I will never be the same
My lifes been changed
And like a child, I will play dispite the rain
Why do I persist to ram my head against the wall?
Why do I pretend there's nothing wrong at all?
Sometimes I wonder why you still fight for me
Its a mystery
But whenever I'm in doubt...
All I have to do is look to you
And I will never be the same
My lifes been changed
And like a child, I will play dispite the rain
All I have to do is live for you
And when I call upon your name
Your love remains
And like a child, I will play dispite the rain
Staring in the mirror, I see more of you
The reflection of my hearts change
Now there is hope
Now there is peace
Your love has set me free, free, oh
All I have to do is look to you
And I will never be the same
My lifes been changed
And like a child, I will play dispite the rain
All I have to do is live for you
And when I call upon your name
Your love remains
And like a child, I will play dispite the rain
I will play (3x)
Dispite the rain
