I would be overstating
If I said I knew you well
That I knew you at all
When you flew through that windshield
And your life passed reel to reel
Was there a bit part for me?
I made a wish for you
Blew out the sun so it'd come true
But the sun froze along with your heart
So give up, give up your love
Give up, give up your love
I promise it's not gonna kill ya
And I need ya, Lord I need ya
And when they cut up your lung
You said it could all breathe easy
The hole swallowed your heart
When they drill holes in your skull
And screwed that halo to your head
Did you think you could fly?
I made a prayer for you
Then prayed some more that it'd come true
Don't know about God but I believe in you
So give up, give up your love
Give up, give up your love
I promise it's not gonna kill ya
And I need ya, Lord I need ya
And though you haven't got a lot to give up
A good man is easy to kill well
Stop talking about the weather and say you're getting better
