Don't be sad that I'm going
Don't be sad that I'm going
Don't be sad that I'm going
Cause I leave tonight
Can you give me that, friend?
Without a soul to sell along the way
The devil rides with me again
He always says things are okay
And maybe I'm losing sleep over nothing
Maybe I'll be just fine
He's tears me away from all those little things
That seemed so important when i knew you
And though we are falling stars
We feel just fine
And though it seems we're not far
We need more time
And can you give me that, friend?
You know the devil holds a lease
And so hard to get man
It's been 20 years since I've been clean
Maybe I'm losing sleep over nothing
He tells me i'll just be fine
He's in my blood
He's thicker than love
He seems so important
And you keep fading
And though we are falling stars
We feel just fine
And though it seems we're not far
We need more time
Woke up today
Just called to say
Your body's cold and you're going nowhere
Woke up today
Just called to say
Your body's cold, you're going nowhere
Oh, you're going nowhere
Oh, you're going nowhere
Oh, you're going nowhere
