Punk rock was my first girl
She left me a scar, so I have her still
She's not young, but she's not old yet
We share the same sun, but her's never sets
You want it
Silver lining shining for you
You got it
The dark cloud always waiting for you
Weightless, and tumbling through space
I remember her voice, but not her face
Floating, but she's always near
She wants to stay, but she can't stay here
You want it
Silver lining shining for you
You got it
The dark cloud always waiting for you
Frozen in window displays
Where did you hide all those days we'd waste?
Fading, but I see her still
She'll always be my punk rock girl
