This is gonna hurt, kid
You better hold on tight, you know
All those drugs you take Cannot help to save your soul
Smile someday, smile, kid
You're fragile as a scene, ya know
All those things you have
Will not make you come undone
Tell me tell me you'll be alright
When you're in the shade
Tell me tell me you'll be alright
When you start to fade
Who's your only friend, kid?
There's noone else, you know
All those girls you love,
Doesn't mean you feel a thing
Tell me tell me you'll be alright
When you're in the shade
Tell me tell me you'll be alright
When you start to fade
Softly sway, or have you lost your way?
Well I could give you a map
But you know you'd have to stay
You could quit the fight or you can say goodnight
Well if you think it's a joke
Then why do you always cry?
Tell me tell me you'll be alright
When you're in the shade
Tell me tell me you'll be alright
When you start to fade
Have you heard?
The days are getting shorter
And what will you do when your suntan is fading and the summer's gone?
Do you feel afraid
(x3)
The days are getting shorter
And what will you do when your suntan is fading and
the summer's gone?
Will you fade away? (x4)
