Do you remember when we bathed in sin?
Bottle anger in my mind and keep it in

Sound is deafening
The silence is louder than
The words I sing
Can't bury me in
The ground

Someday, I will be awake
I'll be old and grey
I will be okay
I will be okay

Eyes are red with rage

Don't be afraid;
Just watch that fire rage
Your skin, it glows with age

See those signs you wave?
They don't mean a thing;
Place a penny in my hand and watch me spin
Around

Someday, I will be awake
I'll be old and grey
I will be okay
I will be okay
