Shadows from my past are catching up with me at last
Guess I can't run forever
Oh, now you're here with me and there is no rushing between us
Still I'm better off without you, baby

Hey, why are you looking at me like that?
I got nothing that you want
Why are you looking at me like that?
I got nothing that you need
When people think, when people do
What people think is right for you

Time to remind me of things that were so funny
Shadows of dreams are fading Open wounds that never mend, a lifetime of love that never end
Don't know who I'm fooling, fooling

Hey, why are you looking at me like that?
I got nothing that you want
Why are you looking at me like that?
I got nothing that you need
When people think, when people do
What people think is right for you

It's time for you to walk away and think, my friend
