I guess we talked too long without communication hear the static breaking up we're out of time and the signal died I hate to say we've got a hopeless situation a second chance is slim right now Baby

Break free
we're heading on the road to destination nowhere
Break free
we're running on low stranded out there somewhere take it in get it out life's an itch and now it's all about Break free
if we let go we might find a miracle we need a miracle

The lines we've drawn between us finally made a difference we can't say who's right or wrong when our eyes are closed and the distance grows I know we've lost our way but if we get some space
The world might turn us back around baby

CHORUS

Maybe I talk too much and try to be too clever but I still need you desperately like the air I breathe but something in us has to
